In Effort To Stop Outflow of U.S. Dollars

JFK Asks Tax on Purchase Of Foreign Stocks, Bonds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a surprise move, asked Congress today to tax Americans on most purchases of foreign stocks and bonds. The aim is to help stem the outflow of gold and dollars.

Kennedy's recommendation was certain to have an immediate impact on international financial markets because it would affect American investments currently approaching the rate of $2 billion a year.

The unprecedented proposal, put forth in a special message to Congress on the worrisome U.S. balance of payments problem, represented the boldest and most controversial attempt yet made by any administration to deal with the payments dilemma.

To discourage the mounting flow of American savings abroad, Kennedy called for a special excise tax ranging from 2 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent on the purchase price of securities issued by governments and businesses in 22 industrialized countries. The tax would go into effect Friday and remain on the books until Dec. 31, 1965.

Admittedly this would be strong medicine. But Kennedy said it would "help prevent pressures for more restrictive measures."

A second highlight of Kennedy's 5,500-word message was an announcement that—for the first time—the United States will exercise its right to draw money from the International Monetary Fund.

Starting Monday, the United States will begin drawing up to $500 million in foreign currencies from the IMF. These currencies will be used by the U.S. Treasury to buy foreign-held dollars that otherwise might be used to purchase American gold.

Kennedy predicted that enactment of the excise tax plus other

JFK 'Looking Forward' To March on Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given his blessings to the late-August civil rights demonstration planned for the national capital and says, "I look forward to being here."

This was the highlight of a Kennedy news conference Wednesday in which he applauded peaceful racial protests while decrying those which can lead to violence and bloodshed.

The session with newsmen—Kennedy's first in Washington in eight weeks—covered a wide range of topics including:

Business and Taxes: The President said business is better than expected; tax receipt consequently have exceeded predictions and, as a result, last year's budget deficit totaled $6.2 billion compared with a January forecast of $8.8 billion. He said this bolsters his argument that a $10-billion tax cut would boost the economy still further and eventually balance the budget.

Cold War Talks: Kennedy said he is "still hopeful" that the United States, Britain and the Soviet

Western Diplomats Predict:

Test Ban May Lead

To Summit Meeting

MOSCOW (AP)—Success in the nuclear test ban talks in Moscow could lead to broader East-West negotiations and perhaps a summit conference this year.

This is the view of Western diplomatic experts who caution, however, that everything depends on the outcome of the test ban talks, now in their fourth day.

Negotiators of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union still face several thorny issues.

Talk of a summit conference rose last spring. U.S. officials discounted it because no special agreement seemed possible then.

But if the Moscow conference is successful, President Kennedy, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Macmillan could well decide either to sign

Negro Shot After Attack On Girl, 8

MARION, Ark. (AP)—A Negro youth was chased into a field by white residents and sheriff's deputies and fatally shot Wednesday after a woman claimed he tried to rape her daughter.

Sheriff Cecil Goodwin said there was evidence of an attempt to rape the girl, 8. The child was not hurt but she was placed under a doctor's care.

The Negro, Andrew Lee Anderson, 17, was hit in the leg by a rifle bullet.

He was brought to the courthouse here and then taken to a hospital in nearby West Memphis, where he died 40 minutes after admission. A doctor said the bullet severed an artery.

Sheriff Goodwin said he did not know who shot Anderson. He would not reveal the names of the mother and child.

Marion is a town of 881 population, more than half of them Negroes. It lies across the Mississippi.

4 Are Injured In Two-Car Collision

Four Beaver Falls, Pa., men received minor injuries in a two-car crash Wednesday at 4:25 p.m. on Twp. Rd. 1044, three tenths of a mile east of Route 170 near Fredericktown.

Hurt were Robert Lehi, 25, and Harold Rigby, 38, bumps on the forehead, Richard C. O'Loughlin, 24, abrasions of the left arm and both knees, and Charles W. Murray, 18, bruised left knee. None required treatment.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol reported O'Loughlin's westbound car and Murray's eastbound car collided on a curve. O'Loughlin, in whose car Lehi and Rigby were passengers, was cited for driving left of center.

First National Bank Splits Stock 5 For 1

Shareholders of the First National Bank, at a special meeting Wednesday, approved a five-for-one split of the outstanding common stock of the bank.

The capital of the bank is $150,000, consisting of 7,500 shares of common stock of the par value $20 each. Effective at the close of business July 31, the number of shares will be 37,500 of the par value $4 each and each share of its combined capital and surplus $20 par value com-pus accounts. This increase was made to meet the expanding credit needs of industry in Salem and its surrounding territory, Colley explained.

Commenting on the split, L. H. Colley, president, said, "This is a significant step forward. Our shares have attained a high price over the years and this split should adjust the value in line with the prices of many leading bank stocks in the United States. We believe the larger number of shares will broaden the base and increase public interest in our bank."

D.M. VanSchoik, Son, Tom, Victims Of Tragic Mishap

A valiant father who tried to save his young son from lacquerous flames that turned the basement of their Jennings Ave residence into a brief inferno Wednesday died this morning at Salem Central Clinic along with the boy.

A witness on the scene after the explosion and fire said the father, Dickson M. VanSchoik, 38, thought he had rescued his 10-year-old son, Tommy, from death after the blast at 1093 Jennings Ave.

Both victims were burned over their entire bodies. The boy died at 1 a.m. and the father an hour and a half later.

Ironically, the father could have lived through the holocaust but raced back into the house when he heard his son's screams. Details of the father's attempt to save the son are unclear.

Managed Plant In Lisbon

VanSchoik, plant manager at the Thomas works of the H. K. Porter Co. in Lisbon, escaped with two other sons from the blaze but returned when he heard Tommy yelling as he was trapped in the burning basement.

Lt. Martin Catlos of the Fire Department said VanSchoik and his three sons, Tommy, Ricky, 13, and Gregg, 11, were painting the basement floor with lacquer. He believes the explosion occurred when the pilot light in the incinerator ignited fumes rising from the lacquer.

Mrs. VanSchoik brought blankets to firemen who gave emergency treatment for shock. Stark and Arbaugh-Pearce ambulances were called. The father and son were admitted to the Clinic at 7:30.

Other Boys Burned Slightly

Ricky and Gregg were treated for minor burns and released after a neighbor took them to the Clinic.

Catlos reported that about two-thirds of the lacquer still remained in the can after the blaze. He said the directions for application clearly indicated to apply the lacquer only in a well-ventilated place.

A neighbor and friend said he understood that the blower on the furnace was turned on to dissipate the fumes.

One of two VanSchoik children who escaped said that "in 30 seconds it was all over".

Mrs. VanSchoik was reportedly in the kitchen and their other two children, Kirk, 5, and an eight-year-old daughter were upstairs when the tragedy occurred.

The VanSchoiks had planned to attend a neighborhood surprise party later last evening.

A neighbor at the residence later reported the whole house was full of paint fumes when he arrived shortly after the fire.

Fire Victims' Burial Set At Columbus

Double graveside services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at Wesley Chapel cemetery, Dublin, Rd., Columbus, for Dickson Moore VanSchoik, 38, and his son, Tommy Bruce VanSchoik, 10, who were fatally burned last evening in the tragic flash fire in the basement of their home at 1093 Jennings Ave.

Rev. Sidney C. G. Everson of Columbus will officiate.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Stark Memorial and there will be no calling hours.

Dickson Moore VanSchoik was born in Franklin County Aug. 27, 1925, the son of O. P. and Naomi Moore Van Schoik and had resided in Salem for two years, coming here from Columbus.

He was general manager of the H. K. Porter Company, Delta Star Division, at Lisbon. A graduate of Ohio State University with a degree in ceramic engineering, Mr. VanSchoik was a member of Club opens.

Would Leave Election of President to House

Unpledged Elector Move In South Appears To Be Headed for Defeat

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unpledged elector movement aimed at forcing the election of the next president by the House of Representatives appears to be withering on the political vine in Dixie.

An Associated Press survey of 11 Southern states indicates that in only three — Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina — does there appear to be any significant possibility that major party nominees might be denied electoral votes.

Even if the sum total of 25 electoral votes of the three states were withheld — which doesn't seem likely — the action would be effective only if the next election provided the closest electoral vote outcome since the Wilson-Hughes contest of 1961. Woodrow Wilson won the presidency by a margin of 23 electoral votes.

Under the Constitution, the House selects the president only if none of the candidates receives a majority of the electoral votes. If the House renders the verdict each state delegation casts a single vote, regardless of the state's size.

Despite the closeness of the popular vote results in 1960, President Kennedy still would have been elected if the 25 had been lopped off his 303 electoral vote total. Election in 1964 will require a minimum of 270 electoral votes.

Govs. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and George Wallace of Alabama have been promoting the independent elector scheme as a means of defeating Kennedy's bid for re-election.

But Democratic politicians outside their states — and some within Wallace's — are wary of bolting. Republicans, hopeful of collecting some Southern electoral votes for their party's nominee, don't like the move.

Here is how the situation shapes up on a state by state basis.

Mississippi — The unpledged elector movement, supported by Barnett, appears likely to be successful if the Republicans choose a liberal candidate.

Under state law, party conventions could put both loyalist and unstructured delegations on the ballot of a primary to be held after the national conventions nominate their presidential candidates.

The delegation which lost would be dropped from the general election ballot. It could petition its way onto that ballot, but could not use the party emblem.

Mississippi gave its nine electoral votes to the States Rights ticket headed by Strom Thurmond in 1948. Its eight unpledged electors voted for Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., in 1960.

Alabama — Wallace has urged Dixie Democrats to join in a movement he says can keep either major party candidate from getting a majority of electoral votes. He said this would "create compounded confusions from which we can gain some meaningful concessions."

Despite Wallace's stand, Sens. John Sparkman and Lister Hill are expected to support the national Democratic ticket, as are several House members.

Alabama gave its 11 electoral votes to the 1948 States Rights ticket. It split its 1960 votes, giving Kennedy five and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., six.

South Carolina — E. P. Riley thinks it's too early to predict whether there will be an unpledged elector movement in 1960. Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gave reluctant backing to Kennedy in 1960.

Arkansas — Any successful independent elector movement would have to have the support of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who gave reluctant backing to Kennedy in 1960.

Tom Harper, Democratic state chairman, and William Spicer, Republican chairman, say nobody has expressed an interest in such a movement.

Arkansas stayed with President Harry S. Truman against the Dixiecrat movement in 1948.

Louisiana — The State Senate killed a bill passed by the House to provide for unpledged electors. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Rep. Gillis Long, D-La., were outspokenly against the measure.

Florida — An unpledged electors bill died in the 1963 state legislature. Leaders do not expect it to be revived.

Texas — No indication anywhere in the state of any movement aimed at choosing unpledged electors.

Virginia — A bill for unpledged electors which died in the Virginia Legislature in 1962 may be offered again next year. But State Sen. Thomas H. Blanton, Democratic party chairman, said "it won't amount to much — it never amounted to anything in the past."

Walter R. Gambill, vice chairman of the state Republican party commented: "The next president of the United States will be elected by the Democrats or by the Republican party. We can't afford to be playing games with any unpledged elector movement. It's a lot of waste motion."

Virginia has not gone Democratic in a presidential election since 1948.

Tennessee — Having voted Republican in the last three elections, Tennessee no longer is considered part of the once solid South. Any movement for unpledged electors would have to come at next spring's party convention but there are no signs of any campaign for it.

Georgia — Gov. Carl E. Sanders, a moderate on the racial issue, controls the state party machinery.

No Change On Our Part

The puzzling thing about the sudden spurt of interest in the Moscow conference is the assumption a "deal" is in the making.

Behind this assumption is the further assumption that something is different than it was before; that this accounts for the prospect of a "deal."

If something actually is different, it is different only for the Khrushchev regime in the Soviet Union. There has been no change on our part.

Americans are still taxing themselves to the limit to keep the Soviet Union from claiming a theoretical edge in the cold war or from holding a literal edge in a hot war.

We are still jeopardizing the present and mortgaging the future in the hope of keeping such relentless pressure on Soviet expansion that the expansionists will change their minds.

We are still of no mind to trust any Soviet agreement further than the weakest man among us could throw Nikita Khrushchev with one hand.

We are still smarting from the way Frank-

All In the Game

Some of his fellow contestants in the golf exhibition business, perhaps all of them like Arnold Palmer, winner of the $22,000 first prize in Cleveland's Open Golf tournament earlier this week.

They concede whether they like him or not that he attracts crowds and adds to the color of their strange occupation. Strange?

Who could have dreamed that a game played outdoors with crooked sticks and a ball no larger than duck egg could draw crowds?

Who could have imagined that grown men would become famous and wealthy for exhibiting their skills in contests that are really not contests but only a pairing off of experts for the sake of demonstrating how golf is played?

Who could have foreseen that a nation which cherishes the legends of the American frontier and prides itself on rockem-sockem athletics would make golf a bigger participating pastime than anything that has come along since bowling, another game that both men and women can play?

Who but the people who built the golf courses and waited for what once was a weekend pastime for aging tycoons to turn into a national fever?

No wonder everybody loves Arnold Palmer.

Sudden Interest In Peace

Cautious optimism is in the air as the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union begin a fresh round in endeavors to ban nuclear weapon tests.

It was generated by Premier Khrushchev's seemingly hopeful speech in East Berlin July 2. In it he called for a nonaggression pact between NATO countries and Warsaw Treaty states—two groups so large they would insure the neutralization of Europe if they agreed not to attack one another.

If Premier Khrushchev means such a pact would be part of a trade for a nuclear weapon tests ban, the West must reject his proposal out of hand because it would not settle for a permanently divided Germany, one of the things that would be almost certainly included in a NATO-Warsaw Treaty pact.

If the fresh round of talks—this time in Moscow—ends nowhere, failure could mean lin D. Roosevelt's administration, including the same W. Averell Harriman now in Moscow speaking for the Kennedy administration, tumbled over itself to give Stalin's regime everything it wanted, without getting anything in return except a war effort Russian patriots were making for their motherland, not for the Allied cause.

IN THESE touchy times when the outcome of international negotiations looms larger than the outcome of efforts to solve problems close to home, the Kennedy administration needs to be mindful of the popular view.

We are still jeopardizing the present and mortgaging the future in the hope of keeping such relentless pressure on Soviet expansion that the expansionists will change their minds.

We are still of no mind to trust any Soviet agreement further than the weakest man among us could throw Nikita Khrushchev with one hand.

NOTHING has changed. No "deal" with Russia that lightened Free World pressure against Communism would hold any attraction.

What started out to be Communism's vendetta against the Free World now is a Free World vendetta against Communism.

If the Kremlin is shopping for a "deal," it should be No Sale.

This is what we've been waiting for. Isn't it?

Don't!

Despite the repeated admonitions of the medical profession and others against persons attempting to view the solar eclipse of the sun on Saturday afternoon, we feel compelled to add a few words on the same subject.

If you are planning to look, the advice is DONT!

Thousands of unsuspecting eclipse observers in previous similar phenomena have been partially or totally blinded by prolonged viewing without proper eye protection. Sun glasses will be of no help.

Parents, by all means, should caution their children.

losing the last opportunity to halt the nuclear buildup.

It appears unlikely that President Kennedy would be sending Averell Harriman to the meeting at all if something hadn't been hinted at in preparatory probings.

Similarly, it appears unlikely that Premier Khrushchev would have gone out of his way to make the East Berlin speech if he hadn't been angling for something—perhaps a high card to hold in his hand against the Communist Chinese.

It might even be that these three men with special distractions—Khrushchev with his Chinese fellow ideologists, Kennedy with a Democratic schism over who won the Civil War a century ago and Prime Minister Macmillan with sexual hanky-panky running riot through the upper classes might be taking a sudden interest in talking about international peace, having found so little peace at home.

The show will have two exhibitions a day of threshing rigs, including steam engines.

Nostalgia is a bore, but no one who saw a steam-powered threshing rig can forget it. It ranked with the horse-drawn steam pump in a city fire department as one of the most exciting things on earth.

They used to blow the whistle on the engine when they passed the McClure place on the way to the farm where I spent my summers. That was the evening before threshing day. They moved the rig before they called it a day.

Then, early next morning they were on the job, getting up steam for the day's work. The threshers were on the job early, too.

On the farm where I lived there was no need to wait for the dew to evaporate. The wheat and oats had been hauled to the barn first and were in dry storage in the loft. This had meant extra work, but fewer threshing hands were needed, because the grain didn't have to be hauled in from the field. It was passed down from the barn loft.

The steam engine chuffed and vibrated. The huge belt that transmitted the power to the separator flapped and squeaked. The blower roared and rumbled as it threw out straw. Building a stack was an art.

The steam engine chuffed and vibrated. The huge belt that transmitted the power to the separator flapped and squeaked. I never did understand how a separator worked; you threw in the sheaves and due time grain came out one place and straw another place.

The machine now is done by a combine operated by one man—a machine that goes into the field to do its work and makes scarcely any noise worth mentioning.

FBI Keeps Close Watch On Demonstrations

By FRED FARRIS

The Kennedy administration is returning blank stares when asked about Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett's charge that racial demonstrations are "Communist-inspired."

"No comment," says the taciturn Federal Bureau of Investigation, whose job it is to know such things.

"No comment," says the White House.

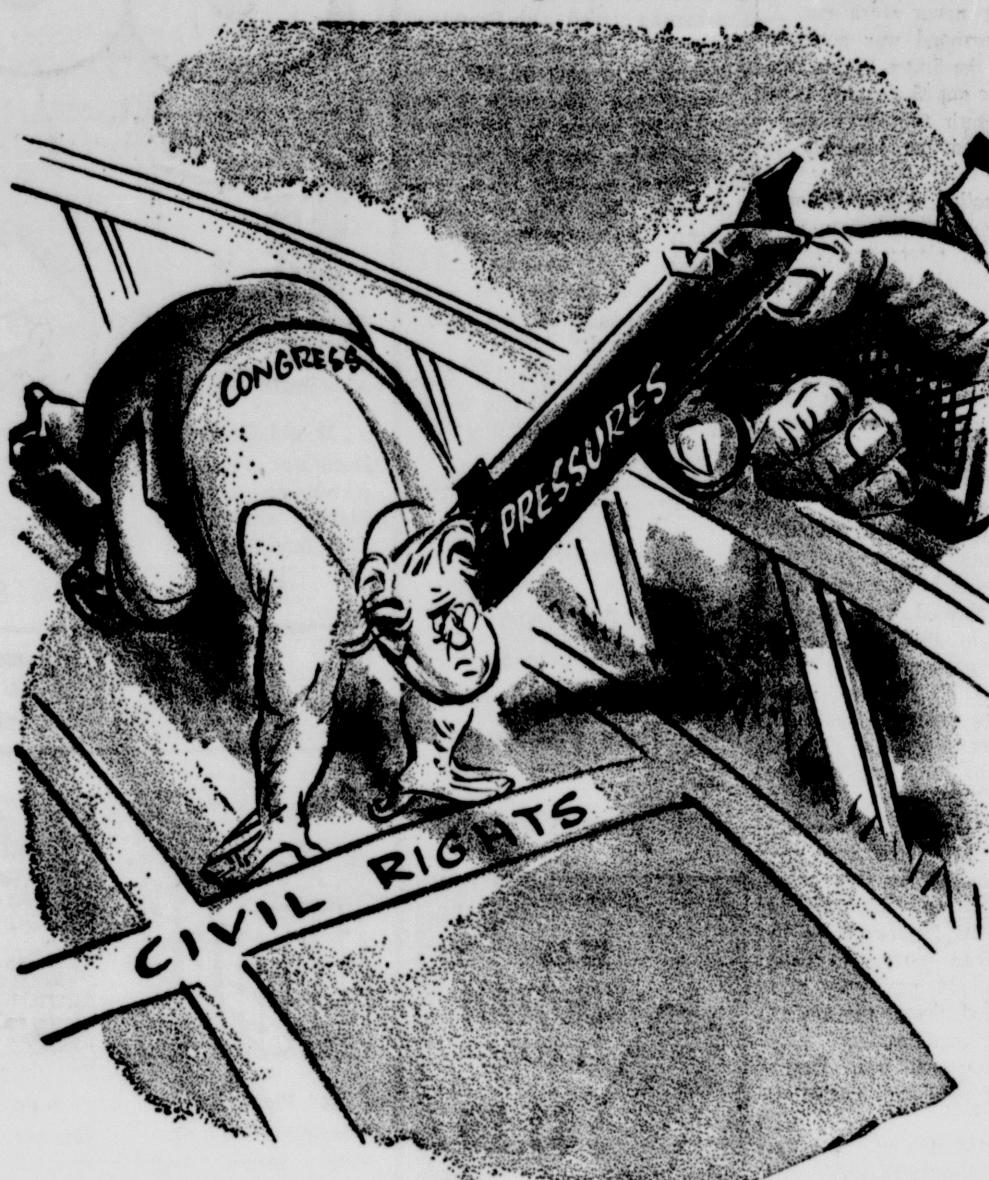

The reasons for this response are not hard to imagine.

For one thing, Gov. Barnett told the Senate Commerce Committee that President Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were "sowing the seeds of hate and violence" by their pro-civil rights activities. To engage in a public shouting-match with the Mississippi governor, who already has tangled with the President and the attorney-general over enrollment at "Ole Miss" of Negro veteran James H. Meredith, could only aggravate an already-inflamed situation.

The administration also is unwilling to "dignify" segregationist Gov. Barnett's charge of Communist inspiration of the sit-in, kneel-in and pray-in demonstrations by publicly commenting on it.

The Defense Budget

Much of the nation's economy is tied to the Department of Defense, for it has become the country's biggest employer. It has been much in the news. He Its chief, Robert McNamara, was asked by Victor Riesel to discuss the economic aspect of his vast department. His frank reply follows.

By ROBERT S. McNAMARA
Secretary of Defense

The Department of Defense is responsible for spending nearly 10 per cent of the national income of this country. It employs 3.7 million Americans directly, in and out of uniform, and millions more indirectly in every aspect of our economic life.

It absorbs more than half of every tax dollar, as it has done for more than a decade. This unavoidably vast establishment exists for one purpose and one purpose only: to act as the servant of United States foreign policy.

Our responsibility is to provide this nation with the means to safeguard its legitimate interests and to meet its commitments at home and around the world.

TWO POINTS seem to me axiomatic. The first is that, at least within any range of defense spending that is likely to appear at all desirable in the foreseeable future, the United States is well able to spend whatever it needs to spend on national security.

The second point is that this ability does not excuse us from applying strict standards of effectiveness and efficiency to the way we spend our defense dollars.

The facts are that national security in these times cannot be purchased by military spending alone, on however generous a scale, and that the task of assuring that our military spending truly serves the national interest is more complicated than it has ever been in the past. And more urgent.

The test we have to apply, over and over again, is whether a particular expenditure for a specific purpose is really in our national interest.

When we took office, we saw three major tasks before us.

First, we had to accelerate the strengthening of our strategic nuclear force, a task which involves not merely increases in the size of the force, but major improvements in its survivability and in the provisions to maintain responsible command and control at all times.

Second, major increases in our non-nuclear capabilities were urgently needed.

The third major effort involves a broad effort to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the defense establishment.

THE FIRST and most important thing to notice about the effort in this area is what it is not. It is not an effort to save dollars at the expense of military effectiveness.

What we are trying to do can be divided into two parts: the first is essentially a series of management reforms of the kind you will find in any well-run organization, an effort which is in large part covered by the formal Five Year Cost Reduction Program we set up in July 1962.

The second, and really the more important, part of the effort does bear directly on military effectiveness. For example, we found that the three military departments had been establishing their requirements independently of each other.

What we needed was a coordinated strategy seeking objectives actually attainable with the military resources available. We are moving with all reasonable speed towards a properly balanced force structure.

There is an important difference between the way we make decisions today, and the way they used to be made.

FORMERLY, an arbitrary budget ceiling was fixed for national defense, and funds were then apportioned among the services.

Today we examine all our military needs, and then decide at what point our military strength is in balance with the requirements of our foreign policy.

As a practical matter, although it is important to consider a variety of alternative policies, at the end we must have one defense policy, not three conflicting defense policies. And it is the job of the secretary and his staff to make sure that this is the case, just as it is the job of the President to see that we have one national security policy, and not a series of conflicting policies in the State Department, the Treasury, the Defense Department, and so forth.

Dear Ann Landers: When will otherwise intelligent people learn that a single woman, living alone, is not necessarily desperate, wretched and crazy to snag a man?

As a young divorcee I'm furious with "big hearted" friends and relatives who hand out my name and telephone number without permission. And I shudder when well-meaning clods introduce me as "available, unattached" and "foot-loose and fancy free." In other words — "willing, ready and eager." These clucks never consider the possibility that I just might have friends of my own or perhaps a plan or two.

ple, by their resistance to Negro diehards, are playing the Communist game?

Both arguments are pooh-poohed around the Capital.

But after all this is said, there remains the question of the Communist role in America's racial strife. Is there any? And if there is, what is it?

Authoritative sources say:

Through the years it has become evident that Communism feeds on social unrest. All round the world, Communist agents and party members exploit dissidence, help it along when they can.

But this does not necessarily mean that Communists always are at the bottom of such unrest.

In the American racial struggle, the conditions—widespread segregation, discrimination, Negro joblessness and the like—exist. The Negro's own efforts to right these wrongs, often against die-hard segregationist resistance, explode into headlines around the country.

THE AMERICAN Communist party is very much interested in such racial agitation, of course, but, in fact, has had little success in egging it on. There is no need. The demonstrations and the rioting caused by the clash of

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I bought new all-white drapes for my large picture window. They are unlined. I like the drapes fine but don't like it when I look at them from the outside because the seams show. What is the easiest way to rectify this?

JEAN R.

Dear Jean: Line them with bed sheets!

I suggest that you do not use a new bed sheet. If you can afford a new one, put it in your linen use it for your lining. Saves money in the long run.

I have had draw drapes over picture windows too. Here's an idea that I have used:

If your house is painted grey then throw that old bed sheet in your washing machine and tint it grey with some all-purpose dye. If your house is blue, tint the lining blue. If your house is green tint the lining green. If it's white, forget it . . .

The reason for this is when people drive by the outside of your house and see one splash of grey, green, etc., it's pretty. If you line it with a white sheet and your house is grey it gives the appearance of a splotch. Don't have splotches any place you can prevent them because it cuts up the total object and makes it look smaller.

You will have to remove your drapes, unpleat them, line the drapes and then replace them. But it's worth every penny, time and effort.

Just thought I would pass this along, as I am frugal too, just as you!

FOLLOWER:

DEAR HELOISE: I'm not usually one for writing into columnists, but that dear woman who suggested using baking soda on a damp sponge to clean starch off the bottom of a cold iron . . . well, she deserves a medal.

I tried it and it's wonderful. I also had stains on the side of my iron which I could not remove without scorching it. So . . . using the same method and with hardly any elbow grease at all — they came off. I rinsed and shined it with a dry cloth and it looked as if I had just bought a new iron.

After using soda on a damp sponge on my iron and finding it such a success, I then used it on my electric toaster, the outside of my electric coffee pot, and the chrome on my dinette set.

All looked just like new. Thank you!

Test Ban

progress in drafting some of the provisions of a test ban treaty covering tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

An optimistic note also was sounded by Kennedy. Speaking on the basis of reports from Harriman, he said "we are still hopeful" that a limited test ban would be agreed upon.

Kennedy posed a serious problem, saying success in the Moscow negotiations should lead to discussions among other nations. He obviously meant attempts should be made to get other nations to join in the test ban—most unlikely in the case of France and Communist China, the two most important targets of such an effort.

The French revolt against U.S. leadership of the Western alliance already has hampered Kennedy's efforts to create a NATO nuclear missile navy. And President Charles de Gaulle has emphasized repeatedly that he is determined to make France a nuclear power.

Kennedy's lack of influence in Paris is more than matched by Khrushchev's lack of influence in Peking. Soviet-Chinese reconciliation talks, under way here for past 10 days, are reported at the point of breakdown.

BIKE IS STOLEN

Regis Donnelly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Regis Donnelly, 1008 E. 3rd St., reported to police that his bicycle was stolen Wednesday between 6:30 and 9:10 p.m. at Centennial Park while he was swimming.

Born in Beaver Falls, Pa., July 1, 1915, the son of Clarence C. and Elizabeth Kaercher, he had been a resident of Salem since 1918. A graduate of Salem High School where he was active in sports, Mr. Kaercher served in the Marine Corps for 46 months during World War II. He was a member of St. Paul's Catholic Church and previous to joining the staff at the beauty salon as hair stylist five years ago, he had been employed by the Mullins Company for 24 years.

He was a graduate of Lewis, Weinberger and Hill School of Cosmetology of Youngstown and served as 1962-63 president of the Salem Unit, Ohio Cosmetologists Assn.

He is survived by his wife, Josephine Vender Kaercher, whom he married Aug. 31, 1939; his mother; two daughters, Pat and Barbara, and a son Larry, all of the home; two sisters; Mrs. Dorothy Snyder of Escondido, Calif., and Mrs. Mae Hart of Tampa, Fla.

room. The installation of a new illuminated ceiling has greatly changed the appearance of the room and the complete modernization of the interior has given it a "new look."

Bank Growth Is Cited

The bank last split its stock, also on a five-for-one basis, in January, 1946. The interim has been a prosperous period for the bank and its shareholders, who have increased in number from 91 in January, 1946, to more than 300 at the present time. In this period the bank's capital funds have nearly doubled, increasing from $1,028,982 to $2,002,871 presently. This represents an increase in book value from $27.44 per common share to $53.41 as of June 30, 1963, on the basis of the 37,500 shares to be outstanding.

The directors last month declared a new regular annual dividend rate of $6 per share on the old shares, equal to $1.20 annually on the new shares. This represents an increase of 200 percent from the $2. adjusted rate paid at the time of the last stock split. The bank paid its first dividend in May, 1964, less than a year after its founding, and has paid dividends on its common stock in each of the 99 consecutive years since.

In its 100-year history, the First National Bank has had only five presidents. L. H. Colley, in his 35th year of association with the bank, is completing his 25th as president. In this period of his leadership the bank has grown five-fold, with assets increasing from just over $4,000,000 to nearly $21,000,000 currently. This growth has been entirely internally generated, as the bank has had no mergers or acquisitions in its history.

It is expected that stock certificates representing the 30,000 additional shares will be distributed on or about Aug. 20, 1963, to shareholders in the ratio of four new shares for each share now outstanding. Certificates now outstanding are not to be surrendered but must be retained since they will represent the same number of $4 par value shares as they now represent of $20 par value shares.

Western Reserve Board Approves $300,000 Budget

A total budget of approximately $300,000 was adopted when the Western Reserve School District Board of Education met Wednesday evening at a public hearing. It was decided that the sum of $200,000 will be requested from the county auditor which will be added to the $100,000 state foundation program for the total general fund.

It was also resolved to ask for a renewal of the existing 3.2 mill operating levy on the ballot in November.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Beverly Barnett, language arts teacher in the high school, and Mrs. George Davies, elementary teacher. Both have accepted other positions.

A tour of the new high school building under construction was made previous to the meeting with Robert Buchanan of the architectural firm of Smith, Buchanan and Smith of Youngstown, who explained progress of the project.

The board decided not to dispose of any of the 119 acres bought for the site of the new high school.

Harold Brown presided at the meeting and all board members were present. They will meet again at 8 p.m. Aug. 21 in the Ellsworth Elementary School.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace that racial demonstrations have been Communist-inspired.

"We have no evidence," he said, "that any of the leaders of the civil rights movements in the United States are Communists. We have no evidence that the demonstrations are Communist-inspired. I think it is a convenient scapegoat to suggest that all the difficulties are Communist."

Kennedy said those who protest plain about organized protests should "do something about the grievances" that prompt them. He suggested it is illogical to say, "don't protest," and at the same time assert, "We are not going to let you come into a store or a restaurant."

He said he sees the situation as a two-way street."

As for the Washington demonstration, scheduled for Aug. 28, Kennedy said it shapes up as "a peaceful assembly calling for a redress of grievances" and undertaken through cooperation with the police.

Kennedy said "this is not a march on the Capitol" — something he suggested earlier would harm the cause of civil rights advocates.

In promising to be in the capital at the time, Kennedy added what amounted to a challenge to Congress by adding, "I am sure members of Congress will be here."

Outlook On the Weather

Maps show the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast of average temperatures and precipitation through Aug. 15.

Large below-normal area in the nation's Northwest dominates the temperature forecast map looking into August.

Kennedy contrasted the planned Washington demonstration with those now in progress at Cambridge, Md., where there has been rioting and bloodshed.

Speaking of Cambridge, he said:

"They have almost lost sight of what the demonstration is about." In such cases, he said, "I think the cause of advancing equal opportunities only loses."

On other topics, Kennedy said:

There is no need for more formal diplomatic contacts with the Vatican because there is no way of two-way communication at present.

He hopes South Viet Nam will resolve its religious disputes because the military situation there looks more hopeful and a stable government is needed.

A trip to the Far East is something the President would like to undertake but he expects to be busy enough at home for some months.

They also took some candy and chewing gum, according to Mick and George Stepanic, co-owners.

Inquest Into Gold's Death Continues

CLEVELAND (AP) — A coroner's inquest into the murder of Mervin L. Gold enters its second day today with major witnesses already heard from and almost nothing added to the meager information authorities had disclosed previously.

Mrs. Lily Gold, 29, widow of the 33-year-old former cab driver whose manipulations with big money brought him two Federal Court convictions earlier this year, told how her husband left their home July 5, the night he was brutally slain, to see Alex (Shondor) Birns.

Birns, long-time Cleveland racket figure refused to answer some 60 questions.

"I certainly can't thank you for your cooperation," Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County coroner, observed with a tinge of bitterness.

"That's what you get for making me spend $2,500 for nothing," retorted Birns, referring to the fee he had to pay a bondsman for the $50,000 bond set by Gerber.

Equally uncooperative in answering the coroner's questions was Allene Leonards, 24, Ga.-old Heights school teacher with whom Birns had a supper date the night Gold was killed. Like Birns she used the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions on grounds "the answer might tend to incriminate me." She did this throughout her 35 minutes on the witness stand.

Gerber said he might recall her to the stand later in the inquest and required her to post $10,000 bond. She was ordered not to leave the county.

Two acquaintances of Birns, Anthony Panzarella, a parking lot operator, and Samuel A. Alvarez, a car salesman, were quizzed and their answers added

Sweet Dreams

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest joys in life are postponed pleasures—the things you dream about now, and may get around to doing later.

Many of these potential delights are impossible of achievement, of course, but that only adds to their charm. If you really had to do them, they probably wouldn't be half as much fun.

Here is one man's catalog of things he'd like to do—if somebody would only leave him a million dollars, or if he simply weren't too darn busy doing something else:

Run a motel in Timbuktu.

Serve a hitch as a sergeant in the Foreign Legion.

Find an oilfield under the Empire State building.

Become a U.S. senator. Among their other perquisites, senators get free snuff. All my life I've hated to pay for my own snuff.

Throw the winning 70-yard pass in a pro football game.

Learn how to drive an automobile and cheat successfully at poker.

Find a glamorous red-haired girl under 70 who could manage to fall head over heels in love with a balding, middle-aged fat man—me.

Meet a girl with any color of hair who found a man who smokes cigars irresistible.

Find a lifelong friend who never needed to borrow money.

Spend a year on the island of Bali practising the difficult art of tying knots with flowers in long dark feminine locks.

Sue a landlord. Landlords have been threatening to sue me ever since I was 12 years old.

Buy a golf course, fill up all the holes, and just walk around admiring the birds.

Get a job selling brassieres on the island of Pogo Pogo, or land the hamburger concession at the Laj Mahad.

Write a book on how to do nothing—and be happy.

Give a $10,000 bill to a bus driver—and watch him break his heart trying to give me change for that in nickels.

These are my pet daydreams. What are yours?

The degree of eclipse in Ohio will range from a maximum of about 80 per cent in the northern part of the state, to 75 per cent in the south. The moon's shadow reaches its mid-way point about 3:45 p.m., Prof. Bonsack said.

Danver of watching the eclipse without proper protection lies in the fact that the dazzling rays which usually keep a person from looking directly at the sun are blocked during an eclipse, making it possible to look directly at the sun without pain.

But the invisible infrared rays from the sun still are there and, when focused on the delicate retina of the eye, can cause harmful burns of which the victim is unaware at the time.

The U.S. Public Health Service also has cautioned against observing the eclipse without proper protection. Neither sunglasses, smoked glass nor exposed photographic film offer adequate protection.

A simple projector for observing the eclipse can be made with two pieces of white cardboard, says the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc. A pinhole or pencil hole in the top cardboard serves to project and focus the image of the eclipse on the second cardboard. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboards.

Slumping Indians Drop Doubleheader To Los Angeles

Tribe Battles Yankees Next

Cleveland Has Lost Last 6 Games In Row

NEW YORK (AP)—The slumping Cleveland Indians, now losers of six in a row, have a one-day rest before facing the New York Yankees in a four-game weekend series.

The Indians, whose bats have been woefully silent lately, dropped a two-night doubleheader Tuesday night to the Angels at Los Angeles, 7-2 and 1-0. The Angels, who swept the three-game series, pulled to within 1½ games of the sixth-place Tribe.

Pitcher Dean Chance of Wooster climaxed the Angels' big first inning against Cleveland in the opener with a two-run double. Chance, now 8-9, worked the whole game, allowing eight hits and striking out 11.

Right-hander Jerry Walker, making his first start for the Tribe this season, was the loser. The Angels poured across six runs in the first inning and knocked out Walker.

Paul Foytack and Art Fowler combined for a four-hit shutout in the nightcap. Foytack went eight innings, allowed only three hits and retired the last 16 men he faced. Fowler (2-3) struck out six and walked only one.

Los Angeles got the only run in the second game when catcher Hank Foiles tripped in the fifth inning and scored on Jack Kralick's wild pitch. It was a tough loss for Kralick (9-8) as he permitted only two hits in the seven innings he worked.

In the opener Cleveland got one run in the second. The Tribe loaded the bases on Fred Whitfield's single and walks to Max Alvis and John Romano. Whitfield scored on a fielder's choice.

The Indians added another run in the fifth after Tito Francon doubled and scored on Dick Howser's single, making it 7-2.

This is the longest losing string for the Indians, who are idle today. They lost five straight in May.

START PRACTICE — Richard Meining, clerk at Evanston, Ill., hotel, registers Bobby Bell, left, of Minnesota; Daryl Sanders of Ohio State and Bob Vogel, right, also of Ohio State. They are among the College All-Stars who report to begin training for the Soldiers' Field battle with the Green Bay Packers on Aug. 2.

Triandos Socks Grand Slam Homer; Yanks Romp

Cast Off Catchers Provide Punch In Tigers, Angels AL Victories

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

There is an old axiom in baseball, to wit: Beware of the shunted player.

Time and again a traded athlete has come back either to haunt his former team or vent his wrath on another club.

This was the case Wednesday night — on a wholesale basis — in the American League.

In Detroit, veteran catcher Gus Triandos, acquired in a trade with Baltimore last winter, uncorked a grand slam homer against his old club to help the Tigers gain a 9-1 victory.

In Los Angeles, another veteran catcher, Hank Foiles, assured the Angels of a doubleheader sweep against Cleveland by scoring the second game's only run after smashing a three-bagger in a 7-2 game up three hits in eight innings to gain his second triumph for his new club.

Foiles, who has seen service with six other big league clubs, twice was traded away by the Indians.

A pair of other discards, pitchers Paul Foytack and Art Fowler, combined to hold the Indians to four hits in the nightcap. Foytack obtained from Detroit last month, smashed a three-bagger in a 7-2 game up three hits in eight innings to gain his second triumph for his new club.

Fowler, who has seen service with six other big league clubs, twice was traded away by the Indians.

The double triumph boosted the Indians to within ½ games of the sixth-place Indians.

In Kansas City, Charlie Lau, the much-traveled catcher, hit a three-run homer and outfielder George Alusik, a repatriate from the Tigers, stroked a grand slammer to stake the Athletics to an 8-1 rout of the Boston Red Sox.

In Chicago, shortstop Ron Hansen, a key figure in last winter's trade with Baltimore, slammed a two-run homer to bring the White Sox from behind and help them defeat Washington 8-2.

Two other overlooked athletes, pitcher Dean Chance and first baseman Charlie Dees, combined to lead the Angels to their first game victory against Cleveland.

Chance, thrown into the hopper by Baltimore in the American League expansion draft of 1961, struck out 11 and allowed eight hits in gaining his eighth victory. Dees, purchased from the Giants, collected three hits, drove in a run and scored two.

PGA Course, Heat Is OK With Rodgers

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A funny thing happened to brash and brazen Phil Rodgers, the golfing fireplug, on his way to winning the 1962 U.S. Open and the 1963 British Open championships.

He didn't.

Still the six-foot fir tree and the four-putt green that cost him the Open and the incredible putting of left-hander Bob Charles that cost him last week's British title aren't particularly bothering the sawed-off mighty mite who is among the top contenders in the 45th Professional Golfers Association championship beginning today.

Now is the sudden changeover from English to heat-seared Texas as conditions disturbing him as it is others who challenged for the British championship last week. In fact, Rodgers, 25, says he can't understand Gary Player's position that all who made the British trip can be counted out here.

"Why would he say that?" Rodgers said after finally turning up at the Dallas Athletic Club course less than 24 hours before he was due to begin the 72-hole medal play grind that ends — if there's no play-off — Sunday afternoon.

"You have an adjustment to make from the small ball back to big ball, there's a time change, it's hotter and the courses are different, that's all true," he said. "But if I recall correctly, Gary won the PGA last year, didn't he? After playing in Britain? How did that happen if it isn't possible?"

Rodgers explained his late arrival by the fact that he left Britain 24 hours later than he expected, and had to spend 48 hours in California after he did get back to make some adjustments to his clubs.

Clay Arrives For Liston's Title Fight

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A distractingly influence named Cassius Clay inflicted himself Thursday on the battle site of Monday night's Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight with such reactions as:

"Who asked him out here?" This came from the promoters who would just as soon hear from Cassius later.

"Who is that?" Sonny Liston made that inquiry.

"I definitely have confidence that I can win; that I Will. Whether I win, I do not know."

This came from ex-champion Patterson who was speaking for himself and was unaware at the moment that Cassius The Great was in town.

Clay was not long in making his observations. It perhaps took five minutes before he got off the airplane from Louisville and headed for his luxurious suite at a Strip hotel, when he said (this is briefed down from a few thousand words):

Liston will win in two or three rounds and will have to meet Clay in September.

"If I'm not ready, who is?" demanded Cassius. "Name me another contender who can whip me."

Summer Cage Activity

With six players scoring in double figures, the Bearcats trounced Spack's Specks 104-70 in the Centennial Park Summer Basketball League last night.

In other action, Tom's Sunoco knocked off Sophomore Stars 94-54 and the Lisbon AC clipped the Raiders 54-44.

The Bearcats rolled to a 48-28 lead by intermission. Woodie Deitch led the parade of former Salem stars with 30 points. Bill Beery followed with 22, John Borrelli, 16; Dan Krichbaum, 14; Darrel Adams 12 and Marlin Waller 10.

Rich Arnold led the losers with 24 markers, Bill Carter chipped in with 12 and Art Spack collected 10.

Gord Leece, who netted 26 points, paced Tom's Sunoco to a 44-20 lead by half time. Bob King connected for 20 markers. Fred Phillips chipped in with 18, Ed Estay, 12 and Sam Watson had 10.

Jim Lantz collected 16 points to the sophomores.

Doug Duncan led the Lisbon AC aggregation with 16 points. Bill Sreignthaler tossed in seven baskets for 14 markers and Roger Fritch finished with 12.

Therm Riddle connected for 14 points to pace the Raiders. Jack Ivan scored 12.

Joseph Campbell: Man Behind Giant Cut In Defense Budget

By RAY GROMLEY

When Defense Secretary McNamara gets a letter from Joseph Campbell he reads it carefully. He assigns a man to investigate every item in the Campbell letter. He personally studies the reply. He usually issues quick orders in line with Campbell's suggestions.

In a quiet, persistent way Campbell is trying to save you and me $3 billion or so a year, mainly in the Department of Defense.

He is U.S. Comptroller General. McNamara, in announcing his 1963 fiscal year savings of $1.1 billion, gave strong credit to Campbell and his general accounting office for triggering some of his most important reforms.

CAMPBELL'S investigators have found and called to McNamara's attention these problems:

1. Preparedness of combat troop units in the United States and overseas areas and of individual Navy combat and service ships of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets was being seriously affected by their inability to obtain repair parts and other material required for combat readiness.

2. "Many instances" when the services "did not know what they had and even where the records showed that needed material was on hand it could not be located."

"We have found," says Campbell, "many examples where millions of dollars of assets were lost for all intents and purposes."

3. In some cases the premature replacement of usable equipment, resulting in a great deal of waste. In other cases the continued use of equipment so broken down that repairs were considerably more costly than the buying of new equipment.

4. Widespread excess procurement. One ridiculous example was a 10 years' supply of coffee.

5. Needless and costly warehousing and distribution of easily obtainable supplies. Example: Campbell's men found the military departments centrally managing over 1,000 supply items of electric lamps that are readily obtainable at comparable prices to the military at local commercial outlets.

6. A tendency to start quantity production of items without adequate development. Campbell's men report $600 million spent for aircraft and equipment incapable of performing its military mission.

7. A duplication of effort by the three military departments in developing similar items.

8. Glaring inefficiencies in the military foreign aid program. These included delivery of equipment to countries which lacked the capability to maintain and utilize that equipment.

IN ONE COUNTRY almost one fifth of the tanks delivered under the military aid program were found unserviceable or deadlined. One third of the 1,100 vehicles in two divisions were considered to be unserviceable. About 38 percent of the radio communications equipment in another country had an effective range of only one third to two thirds of that for which it was designed.

In a third country more than 2,000 of 6,900 combat and combat support vehicles were inoperable and about half the jet aircraft in a fighter wing were out of commission for lack of parts.

In a fourth country, $2.2 million worth of ammunition had been on hand for 18 months although the gun for which it was intended had been cancelled from the program.

Campbell concluded that "more effective military assistance could, through improved economy and efficiency, be obtained for considerably less money than is now required."

"Our review of repair parts support disclosed that lack of repair parts in the Army supply system contributed to the reduction of the combat readiness of certain of the Army's combat and combat-support vehicles."

Campbell described one specific goof: "Unnecessary costs estimated at about $405,000 were incurred to modify M 151 utility trucks with certain fixtures to facilitate air delivery of the vehicles. This was because the Army failed to assure that the desired fixtures would be included on the vehicles at the time of production."

"THIS FAILURE occurred despite the fact that during the 10-year period that the M 151 vehicle had been under development, the principal military characteristic required with respect to transportability was that it could be air dropped by parachute and externally transported by helicopter."

Campbell recently said, "There are many and types of situations that we have identified involving excessive costs to the Government indicate that these and similar deficiencies are widespread."

Noting that McNamara has taken some excellent and determined steps to correct the deficiencies, Campbell nevertheless warns, "Directives and policy statements alone cannot be relied upon to assure that necessary steps are taken."

In reference, however, to some major specific McNamara action, Campbell said, "The various actions taken by the Department of Defense in response to our recommendations, if properly implemented and vigorously pursued, will be a major stride."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Baby's Umbilical Cord

Those first days home from the maternity ward! Every odd movement, the tiniest rash, the most normal whimper from the new-born child and the mother can be thrown into a small panic.

A frequent cause for concern is the presence of the umbilical cord still attached to the infant's body — the remnants of the life-giving duct which supplied the unborn child with nourishment from his mother.

With most babies the umbilical cord dries up and falls off on the sixth to 10th day of life. For some infants the raw navel is slow in healing over. This may lead to what is called granulation tissue or proud flesh. If severe, your doctor may apply silver nitrate to dry it.

IN MOST CASES, however, all that is needed is to keep the navel clean and dry. A belly band or other form of dressing is not needed. Just make sure that the navel is not kept wet by contact with the diaper.

The navel is best cleaned by wiping it with a piece of sterile absorbent cotton. If a crust forms don't touch it but let it fall off when it is ready.

If the skin around the navel becomes red, have your doctor see it at once, because this usually means infection. This is not likely to occur if ordinary care has been used. Finally, no tub baths should be given until the navel has completely dried.

Q—My 18-month-old grandson's hips have not grown in place. He does not try to pull himself up. What can be done for him? Would vitamins help?

A—I would judge from your letter that your grandson has a congenital dislocation of one or both hips. This is a very difficult condition to treat and nothing so simple as taking vitamins will help.

Some babies with this condition can be helped in early infancy by placing them on their stomachs when they are in bed and pinning both sides and the middle of the diaper to the sheet so the baby can't roll over.

The longer proper treatment by an orthopedist (a doctor who specializes in bone and joint diseases) is delayed, the greater the difficulty of treatment and the poorer the chances of getting a good result.

BONGO, BONGO — Baby Bongo, foreground, "nose" a friend when he sees one, upon arrival at the Cleveland, Ohio, zoo from Africa. His chum: Karen, 4. Zoo officials say that the animals, members of the antelope family, are the only pair of bongos in captivity.

Q—Should I waken my baby for his 2 a.m. feeding or should I let him sleep?

A—Regardless of age, no baby should be wakened for his 2 o'clock feeding. If you don't remind him of it, he may not think of it. He will make it up by feeding better during the day.

Q—My 4-year-old grandson had a nerve injury at birth and the right side of his face is paralyzed. Electric tests showed no sign of life in the nerves. The doctors say nothing can be done. What do you think?

A—If the paralysis is due to prolonged pressure on a nerve during delivery, the condition should clear up within a few weeks after birth. If the nerve fibers were torn, there is no likelihood that their function will be restored and shopping around from one doctor to another would be a waste of time and money. Massage and electrical stimulation have been tried in such cases but to no avail.

Q—Our doctor says that our 2-year-old daughter has anemia. He is giving her iron for it. How long must she continue to take it?

A—Until your doctor says her hemoglobin level and red cell count are normal.

TEMPORARY JUDGE

The announcement Wednesday said Judge Puglisi will hold court two days a week in Mount Vernon starting next Tuesday until appointment by Gov. James A. Rhodes of a successor to the late Judge Evan P. Ford.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in Tiffin.

PROBE BOY'S DEATH

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police were investigating a shooting which resulted in the death Wednesday of Ronald A. Bertini, 17. The youth was wounded July at the Parkview Home for Retarded Children, which his father operates.

Lela Mae Wilson, an employee of the home, was quoted by police as saying she heard noises outside her door, took a rifle from beneath her bed and fired through the door.

Soil Conservation Report

"If soil conservation seems to be a jigsaw puzzle, at least the pieces are getting bigger and the picture clearer," Raymond S. Brown, state conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service reports.

"State conservation needs studies recently made give us a pretty good view of the job ahead," he says. It shows us that landowners still have some skirmishes ahead of them if they expect to solve the problems of too much water, not enough water, and protecting our soil resources. It indicates, too, that progress in the future will depend heavily on cooperation on community problems that have defied the individual approach.

"As we go into the summer season of heaviest rainstorms, it may be well to review some of our main shortcomings in the kinds of practices that anchor the soil and solve our problems of too much and not enough water.

"Over five million acres of Ohio cropland still need treatment for improvement, strip cropping, and excess water problems. Practices needed to solve these problems include land smoothing, surface drainage, tile drainage, and open ditches. An additional one-half million acres have flooding problems. Practices needed are floodwater retarding structures, channel improvement, levees, and good land use and treatment.

The problems of not enough water include the need for livestock water, water for the benefit of wildlife, water for irrigation of crops, community or municipal water supply, and for recreational benefits such as fishing, swimming, skating, boating and camping. Practices needed include farm ponds, spring development, lakes, and incorporation of water needs in floodwater retarding structures.

"Over two and one-half million acres of cropland still need treatment to protect our soil resources, practices to protect our valuable soil resources include changes in land use, proper crop rotations, pasture improvement, woodland improvement, strip cropping, and other practices that have defied the individual approach.

14 U.S. Soldiers Hurt In Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas raked the airport of South Viet Nam's second largest city with mortars and machine guns Tuesday night, wounding 14 U.S. Army Special Forces troops.

The attack on the Can Tho Airport, 80 miles southwest of Saigon, lasted only eight minutes, but between 16 and 20 mortar shells hit the installation and one of the 60 mm shells went through the roof of a shack housing the Special Forces team, inflicting all the casualties.

Ten of the wounded Americans were taken to the 8th U.S. Army field hospital in Nha Trang. Three were in serious condition. Three Vietnamese also were wounded. Damage to the airport was comparatively light. A light plane and an automobile were damaged, and there were bullet holes in several buildings.

Vietnamese troops were sent in pursuit of the guerrillas today.

It was the heaviest casualty toll of American servicemen in a single encounter with the Viet Cong.

Earlier Tuesday, two American military advisers and two Vietnamese soldiers were injured and a Vietnamese soldier was killed in the crash of a U.S. Marine Corps helicopter in Mountains 360 miles northeast of Saigon.
